Delaware Valley Floral Group Announces Sale of Flower Transfer Handling to Lynx Global Corporation

Sewell, NJ, May 11, 2009 – The Delaware Valley Floral Group (DVFG), a leading US floral distributor, announced the sale of its Flower Transfer Handling division to Lynx Global Corporation (Lynx). Located in Miami, Florida, Flower Transfer Handling provides customs clearing, box handling, and a wide variety of logistical services to DVFG and other third party customers. Under the terms of the sale, Lynx will continue to operate within the Flower Transfer building at 1480 NW 94th Avenue, under a lease from DVFG. Lynx will continue to provide services to DVFG and its other customers. George Ackler, who has been the Director of Operations & Logistics of Flower Transfer Handling for the past 13 years, will continue to manage the business as the President of Lynx Global. The sale becomes effective on May 16, 2009.

Jack Chidester, DVFG's CEO, stated: "The sale of our Flower Transfer Handling division will allow DVFG to focus its efforts on the growth and expansion of our three sales divisions, Delaware Valley Wholesale Florist, Transflora, and FreshBlooms, serving professional retail florist, event planners, and retail mass markets throughout the US."

George Ackler, the new President of Lynx Global, added: "Operating as Lynx Global, we will continue to provide the high quality services that Flower Transfer Handling is respected for in the Miami market and by its existing customers."

Transflora, the brokerage division of DVFG, will continue to operate in the Flower Transfer building. Flower Transfer Trucking, also a division of DVFG, will continue to use the Flower Transfer building as its primary Miami depot.
